International Milk Commission Proposed

Have Power to Regulate Retail Price Of Milk—Milk Producers Unorganized

Syracuse, Oct. 12—An international commission with the power to fix the retail price of milk and to control in some degree its production was proposed to the World's Dairy Congress today by Dr. E. Lour, director of the Swiss Rural Union.

The price of raw milk is strongly influenced by the price of butter, cheese and condensed milk, Dr. Laur said. These are commodities of international commerce and consequently the price of milk is influenced by the world markets. While the commerce in milk products is internationally organized, milk producers are not and as a result the price of milk in many countries does not cover the cost of production he declared.

CORN IS 86 PER CENT FULL CROP

IN NODAWAY COUNTY BY AN OFFICIAL REPORT.

WHEAT PRICE UNSTABLE

Large Portion of the Crop Being Seeded After October 1—Less Acreage Than Last Year.

The farmers of Nodaway County, in preparing their official crop report, say that 1923 corn is 86 per cent of a full crop, and 73% is mature with 16 days from October 1 to mature. The contract or offering price of corn is 53 cents per bushel. They further report 76½ of this year's wheat crop marketed, and the condition of soybeans as 100%, apples 59½, clover for seed 42½ and pastures 100%.

Jefferson City, Mo., October 12.—Missouri corn prospects are for 197,508,000 bushels on an October condition of 83%, indicating an average acre yield of 30.88 bushels on an October condition of 83%, according to E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes of the United States Department and State Board of Agriculture. The corn acreage is 6,396,000 against 6,150,000 last year which produced 175,275,000 bushels.

Missouri corn on October 1 was 88% matured, with only 1% of the acreage damaged by frost, with late corn on the average maturing by October 13. In the southeast counties about half of the corn crop was not mature, and throughout the state occasional fields were late and would take from ten to thirty days to mature. Only a small part will be soft corn, with the most of that in the northern border counties.

Corn is being contracted from 55 to 90 cents per bushel, throughout the southern third of the state corn prices will be from 70 to 80 cents a bushel. Generally the price has not been stabilized, but present average indication is 63c. Upland corn in the southwest is generally poor, due to drouth, but throughout the balance of the state the yield will be quite uniformly good. Blades and stalks have been kept green by rains in the northern third, and wind and hail in some northern and central counties resulted in much down corn. A larger acreage is being hogged off than usual.

Wheat seeding is going forward rapidly, and a larger portion of the crop is being seeded after October 1 than ever before. The acreage will be less than last year. Very little preparation for wheat seeding was done during August and September, especially from Benton to the Southwest. Wheat of the 1923 crop has been 62% of the total yield, compared to 63% last year. Heaviest marketings were made in the east and southeast counties. Spring wheat yield upon 5,000 acres was thirteen bushels per acre, or 65,000 bushels, with quality of 85%. Threshing of wheat and other grain completed except in the northeast, where the work was delayed by rains. Average yield this year is 25 bushels per acre on 1,285,000 acres, or 32,125,000.

Barley yield is 27 bushels per acre, of 87% quality. Buckwheat condition 85%, indicating 16½ bushels per acre.

Hay yield is better than last year, except timothy. Clover hay averages 1.30 tons per acre on 598,000 acres or 777,000 tons. Alfalfa hay averages 2.35 tons per acre on 170,000 acres, or 400,000 tons. Grain sorghum 85% condition, or 24.65 bushels per acre. Crop

LEE TELLS ABOUT COURSE OF STUDY

BEFORE SECTIONAL MEETING OF TEACHERS YESTERDAY

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Are Discussed by F. E. Patrick of Bethany—Thinks Curriculum Must Be Broadened.

"Supervised Study and the Revision of the High School Course of Study," was the subject of the address of Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools, who spoke before a meeting attended by high school teachers at an afternoon session of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association yesterday afternoon, following the address delivered by Governor Arthur M. Hyde. The meeting was held in the College Library with Superintendent J. W. Pierce of Skidmore as chairman.

Superintendent Lee told how the high school course of study had been made up to the present time. He said that a committee, which was in charge, had written to the educational department of other states and this committee had picked at random different parts of the courses of study which had been collected. Then all this had been put together and formed the course of study for the high schools of Missouri. If he was doing it this way he said it would not be done at all.

Explains Course of Study

Mr. Lee then explained an extensive plan for a course of study for this state. A committee of fifteen on standardization, organization and administration would meet with him and work out the details of the plan. Representatives of the various colleges of the state, including C. H. Williams, who is in charge of the extension division at the University of Missouri, would compose the committee.

Instead of a course of study containing 150 to 200 pages and covering all subjects of the high school, Mr. Lee intends to have a bulletin for each subject. An expert is expected to be obtained to work out the course of study. A bulletin on organization, standardization, and administration will be ready by September 1. He pointed out the waste in the bulletins now in use. The teacher must get the whole course of study to get the one or two pages devoted to his special department.

Supervised Study

The latter part of Superintendent Lee's address was on the subject of supervised study. He revealed how time is lost in average high schools now using the present course of study. He suggested a plan to have an eighty or ninety minute period in the morning and a thirty minute period in the afternoon to be devoted to literary societies, debates and other activities.

In the long periods the teachers would devote half of the time to recitation and the assignment of lessons and the remainder of the period in supervised study. In speaking of the requirements for high school teachers Superintendent Lee said they should have eight hours by the first of September and those teaching first class high schools should have taken five hours a year by correspondence, extension work or attendance at a summer school.

Junior High Schools

F. E. Patrick, superintendent of schools, Bethany, spoke before the high school teachers on "Junior High Schools." The main thought of Mr. Patrick's address was the broadening of the curriculum of the junior high schools because the object of education is to prepare the pupils for the situations of life.

The speaker pointed out that the pupils in the junior high should be given something to do in manual arts or domestic science and believes that part of the time of the future school boy would be spent to fit him for his life's work. Junior high schools bridge over from the lower to the higher grades by giving the pupils an insight to the subjects he wants to study in high school and the association with high school pupils gives the junior boy or girl poise and patriotism," said Mr. Patrick. He continued that the junior high kept more in school as it does not give them a chance to quit when they have received a diploma as is given at the conclusion of the grammar school course.

BRAILLE SUPPLIES RECEIVED BY R. C.

FIRST CLASS TO MEET MONDAY AT COURTHOUSE

IS A RECENT ACTIVITY

Work Is Being Sponsored By Tourist Department of Maryville Twentieth Century Club

Supplies have been received by the Nodaway County chapter of the American Red Cross for the Braille work that is to be done by the Volunteer Service of the Red Cross. This work is being sponsored by the Tourist Department of the Twentieth Century Club of Maryville which has included Braille work in the program for the year. The first class meeting in which work in Braille will be done is to be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Rest Room of the Courthouse.

Braille work is a new activity of the Red Cross in Nodaway County. It consists of the learning to write and transcribe Braille into literature. The literature that will be made under this new department of the Red Cross will be sent to ex-service men who were blinded in the late World War that are now being rehabilitated in Evergreen Institute for the Blind at Baltimore, Md. The work done in this institution during the war was carried on by the American Red Cross but since the cessation of hostilities the government has taken over the work at the Evergreen Institute.

However, the Red Cross is co-operating with the government in the program, the government has designed at this institute in the rehabilitation work to furnish Braille literature to the soldiers who suffered loss of eyesight. The reason for this co-operation is the fact that the making of Braille is expensive, it being a known fact that the book "Little Women," which was transcribed into Braille for the soldiers by the government cost $20 a volume. Also most of the literature transcribed for ex-soldiers' now in use consists of classics. The women of Maryville who will devote their time for making literature which the blind will be able to read is planned to be made up of short stories and popular literature.

The Braille work which is transcribed here, sponsored by the Tourists Department of the Twentieth Century Club, will be first sent to Mrs. Gertrude T. Rider, librarian of the Congressional Library at Washington, D. C., for proof reading.

Mrs. J. J. Heifner, 704 North Main street, is chapter chairman of the Braille Department of the Nodaway County chapter of the American Red Cross.

M. H. S. ORCHESTRA FURNISHED MUSIC

SILENT READING DISCUSSED BY C. R. STONE OF ST. LOUIS.

"DIGNIFY PROFESSION"

Says Miss Eva B. Shuman—Teachers Owe Certain Duties to Their Work —Must Have Civic Pride.

This morning's session of the general meeting of the Northwest Missouri teachers' meeting started with music furnished by the Maryville High School orchestra under the direction of Loren Schnabel. After a half hours music program C. R. Stone of the St. Louis Public School system, was introduced as one of the speakers of the morning.

Mr. Stone spoke on the subject, "Remedies for Common Deficiencies in Reading Instructions."

"I am not opposed to oral reading," said Mr. Stone, "but it has its decided place in the teaching of reading and should be used in its place.

"There are five common defects of the teaching of reading in the public schools of this state. They are as follows:

"1. Over use of oral reading, some teachers follow only this one method.

"2. Over emphasizing the details of a lesson and not dealing with the thought or general exercise as a whole.

"3. The continued use of dead uniformity in the teaching of our English lessons.

"4. Failure to gain the interpretation and the appreciation of the reading given.

"5. Absence of technique in the teaching of the silent reading courses.

"All of these could be easily remedied if the teacher would go about the course in the right manner.

"It is true that a great deal of the failure in the teaching of the English courses is due to the text books not making clear the way to teach the lesson. Also these text books as a rule are used in classes that are not as advanced as the work requires. Consequently the interest of the pupils is lost."

Miss Eva B. Shuman, county superintendent of schools, Fairbury, Nebraska, spoke next on the subject of "The Teacher's Obligation."

"We must dignify our profession," said Miss Shuman in her talk to the assembly. "We owe certain things to our profession and this is one that is needed above all things.

"If you fail to justify your trust which is placed in your hands by the school board it casts reflection upon the very people that hired you and so it is up to you as teachers to make a success.

"Above all, you must watch your personal actions. This has caused more teachers to fail in their work than any other one thing. The lack of attractive attire and the lack of being agreeable to your students causes the loss of confidence in you by your pupils and so greatly hampers your work.

"We as teachers must fulfill our contracts and give a dollar's service for every dollar of salary you receive. You are given a recommendation and you must fulfill this, we require it of merchants and all other professional persons and so why not require it of the teachers.

"Another thing you must be a cog in the community and add to the civic pride. Your success in your school work depends just as much on the success in the life in community as in the school room.

"School teaching is the greatest profession in the world and has the greatest future to it if we as teachers fulfill our obligations."

Did he love his country?

What punishments did he receive at the hands of his country.

With these questions you are dealing with the subjects as a whole and the pupil may catch the beauty of the story together with the patriotism which the author is attempting to convey.

After you have given the student the questions they should study the story by reading it through in one sitting. By rapidity of reading they can more easily carry over the atmosphere of the story.

"The next day the recitation should deal with the questions asked and each student allowed to express their individual thoughts.

"Too many teachers pick the reading by the simplicity of the words and the pupil is unable to comprehend the meaning of the article and thus lose interest. This is one of the things that the teacher should be most careful of and should hold the interest of the student until the entire story is finished and they understand all of it.

PROHIBITION CODE TO BE DISCUSSED

PRES. TO ASK MORE RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF NATIONAL LAW

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Plan Worked Out Will Be Submitted To Conference Of Governors To Be Held On October 20

Washington, Oct. 12—Adoption of a sweeping national code for the enforcement of the dry law is the chief suggestion that the Coolidge administration will advance at the conference of governors to be held at the White House October 20, it was learned here today.

This plan worked out by the prohibition unit on the basis of questionaires submitted to all state executives entails the closest coordination of the federal and state agents in the enforcement of the national liquor law.

Chief recommendations for the formation of the code are:

First: That the Pennsylvania block system be used extensively to close establishments violating the prohibition act.

Second: That state authorities assume a more vital and active part in conducting dry raids.

Third: That prosecuting attorneys and court deal more severely with liquor law violators, imposing jail sentences as well as heavy fines.

Fourth: That purchasers of contraband liquor be dealt with as severely as sellers.

Fifth: That more speed and preference be given liquor cases in the courts.

Besides prohibition, two other important subjects, suppression of the drug traffic, and the "bootlegging" of immigrants, are on the program of the conference which has received the official sanction of President Coolidge. In view of the President's opinion not to tolerate a discussion of the propriety of the existing law, the White House announced the governors will not be asked for an expression of opinions on the new selective immigration law being drafted jointly by Secretary Davis and Representative Johnson, Republican of Washington, chairman of the House Immigration Committee.

POSSES SEARCHING FOR TRAIN BANDITS

FOLLOWING DARING HOLD-UP OF PASSENGER TRAIN LAST NIGHT

FOUR OF CREW ARE DEAD

Several Passengers Sustained Minor Injuries When Mail Car Was Dynamited, Passengers Unmolested

Portland, Ore., Oct. 12—The greatest man hunt in the history of Oregon and California was in progress today bent on the capture of bandits who held up the Southern Pacific San Francisco express and shot and killed four members of the crew.

It was the boldest train robbery since the days of the "Old West."

To guard against lynching, a company of the Oregon militia has been called out and is taking an active part in the hunt.

Those killed were the engineer, fireman, brakeman and a mail clerk.

No trace of the bandits had been found early this morning, but posses, led by bloodhounds, were searching the dense forests in the Siskiyou mountains.

The robbery occurred late yesterday at the southern extension of a long tunnel. The passenger train was bound from Portland to San Francisco.

The passengers were unmolested by the bandits, but about a score suffered minor injuries when the mail car was dynamited. The force of the explosion was so great as to nearly demolish the mail car.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 12—Attacked by a roaring rush from the air, often attributed to the "blowing in" of a healthy young oil gusher, farmers rushed to an abandoned "dry hole" in the east shallow field near here and found a column of oil sixty feet high shooting over a forty foot derrick.

However, the good fortune was short lived. After an embankment had been thrown up saving several hundred barrels of the initial flow, the well ceased gushing as suddenly as it had started and again was labeled dry.

Shelbina, Mo., Oct. 12—William E. Critchlow, 94 years old, veteran traveling salesman today is the happiest man in Missouri, he says. He has just been presented with $1,500 which will enable him to spend his remaining days in comfort, after age and failing eyesight have reduced him to poverty.

The money was raised by Joseph Austrian, publisher, and Carl Avery, editor.

Austrian read of Critchlow's fight which he was compelled to give up when eyesight failed him. The publisher enlisted the aid of Avery, and they together made an appeal to men in the tobacco trade—dealers, manufacturers and salesmen.

The response was prompt. Contributions poured in from old customers of Critchlow upon whom the old man had called scores of times in his fifty years on the road. The amounts were not large but the aggregate was considerable.

The $1,500 was presented Critchlow by Frank Dimmit, president of the Old Bank and Trust company.

Motivation in Rural Schools

To the teachers who attended a meeting of the rural school department held in the auditorium yesterday afternoon, Eva B. Shuman, county superintendent of Jefferson County, Fairbury, Nebr., gave the first talk, with Grace M. Shepherd of the College in charge of the meeting. Her subject was "Motivation in Rural Schools," saying that Southern Nebraska had visions for better schools. It is possible to get a more vital stimulus where vitalized agriculture has been tried out. Invitations were sent to rural school teachers to start this work and twenty-eight were the first to join the movement. It requires much extra time, she said, to start the work. But the results are worthy, as many pupils who dislike school catch new ideas in the special courses and become interested in school work.

The speaker said that teachers of vitalized agriculture are in demand; more salary is paid to those capable of doing this work. Some teachers have failed to be hired because they were not willing to prepare for this work in summer school.

Methods in Arithmetic

"Methods of Teaching Arithmetic," was the subject George Melcher had when he spoke before the department of rural school teachers. "Pupils can do better work in the intermediate grades in arithmetic and grammar grades if they take the time for learning reading in the primary grades," he said. Numbers must be learned by drilling on the small numbers. Especially is it true that bonds are established to give a conception of numbers through the combination of the simple use of numbers. Difficult work must be excluded and only brought into use when there is a demand for this work.

Mr. Melcher said that much time is lost by using the wrong method of instruction. In subtraction, numbers should be added rather than by using extra marks for subtraction. In division of decimals he said the child should forget his decimal point until the last operation. There should be a checking up of results by first having an idea of final results. He thinks that by getting the easy things first the harder operation will take care of themselves.

Will Contest Up in Circuit Court Today

The estate will now be divided according to law. Dowell & Boyd represented Leota I. Hewitt.

The warranty deed was filed in the recorder's office today: Albert Williams to J. H. Davison, the north half of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section eight, township sixty-five, range thirty-six, containing nearly twenty acres, consideration $1.00.

STUDY OF ART IS NEEDED IN SCHOOL

SAYS MISS SHELTON WILHITE OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

DUNCAN, GENTRY COUNTY

Says It Is Up To The Public Schools To Teach Young The Beauty Of Famous Pictures.

"Appreciation of art and of the artistic things which surrounds us in every day life," is one of the phases Miss Shelton Wilhite said should be emphasized in the schools of America when she spoke to an assembly of teachers of the Northwest Missouri Association in the Art Department of the College yesterday afternoon. Miss Wilhite is a graduate of Columbia University, New York City. Her address was given following the speech of Governor Arthur M. Hyde. The teachers who are present for the convention went to the several departmental meetings yesterday afternoon.

The program of the department of Fine Arts was held in the art room where Miss Olive DeLuce, dean of the College Art Department presided.

Miss Wilhite, was the first speaker on the program, the subject being "The Need of Art in the Public Schools." She said that "the majority of the people in every day life do not have such an appreciation of art and consequently pass by the really beautiful things of life. Training in art is not given in the homes and it is on account of this that the schools should teach the appreciation of art.

"One of the most essentials of art is to know the law of colors. Again we need art in our schools in order that America may be provided with higher types of citizenship. Once a student realizes the true value of art more artistic homes will be found."

Miss Wilhite concluded her talk by laying the problem before the teachers that attended the meeting and stating that it was a duty of them to see that the future people of America secure at least a fundamental course in art.

Earle C. Duncan

"Art from the Superintendent's Standpoint" was next discussed by Earle C. Duncan, Superintendent of Schools from Gentry County. Mr. Duncan said that the present system of education in this state was not conceived as a force for the complete living. Complete living must be interpreted in three divisions, truth, beauty and goodness. Art courses which are offered are the only ones, that fulfills the division of beauty.

"Too long has the mistaken view that art is inborne in a person been connected with our educational system. Taste requires just as much education for its development as does any other phase of our educational curriculum. It is up to the public schools to face the burden of educating our young ones in the beauty of the famous pictures and statues and to teach them to enjoy art.

"I would suggest that the teachers, when giving a course in art, always have the student use an artistic picture as the model so that the student may learn to distinguish true art. There is one part of teaching of art that has been neglected, that is, making the pupil interested in the great pictures.

"Another thing that should not be neglected is commercial art study. Mechanical drawing, etching, stained glass and other such studies are helpful to any child or student. In conclusion I would say that it is art that has drawn out the vital needs of the nation and it is up to us as teachers to train the future Americans in this work for which they will have so much need for in later life."

Art in Rural Schools

"The study of art is a study that is closely related to all other subjects studied in the rural schools and also is related to the home life," said Miss Eva Seidel of Chillicothe. It should be begun in the first grade and continued throughout the entire schooling of the child. In teaching art one of the fundamentals is to make the work interesting so that it will appeal to the average young student."

Miss Seidel showed the audience some examples that first grade children had made. They included rugs, free hand paper cuttings which represented Mother Goose stories.

"In the third and fourth grade more technique is required to effectively teach the pupil in the art class. Heretofore the student has drawn only what he knows and has no idea of rhythem and the blending of colors," she said. The upper grades are at the perspective stage of the teaching of art. Care should be taken that the work is not forcing the student and extending them too much while taking up this subject."

Miss Seidel concluded by saying "the art work in the rural schools is in its first stages and a great future is in store for teachers of art."

A General Discussion

Following Miss Seidel's talk a discussion was held by Miss DeLuce on the exhibits entered in the art contest last spring by the various high schools throughout the district. She urged all teachers to encourage art entrees in the contests next spring and told them a good way to carry on enthusiastic work in the art department was the organization of art clubs.

Following the program a business meeting was held. Miss Eva Seidel of Chillicothe was elected chairman of the art department of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Meeting for the ensuing year.

A reception for all of the visiting art teachers was given by the State Teachers College Art Club.

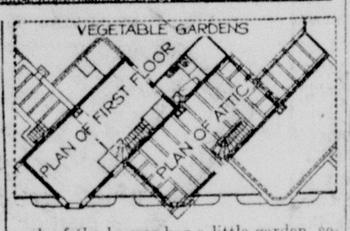
Small Dwellings Set at Angle to the Street to Give More Light and Air and Greater Security against Intrusion: Heat and Electricity are Supplied from a Central Plant



More Light and Air for Small Homes

Some of the disadvantages of small dwellings built in groups for the sake of economy have been overcome in Germany by placing the houses at an angle to the street to provide more light and air for each dwelling. Such groups are easily supplied with heat, electricity, and water from a single center. Under the German plan each of the houses has a little garden, secure against the prying curiosity of neighbors and equally protected against intruders in the front and rear.

Million Wasps Are Freed To War on Crop Pests

One million wasps, the size of pinheads, have been imported by the government and are now distributed in the East to destroy the corn borer. The wasps will save millions of dollars in crops for the farmer, if they serve as well as they have in Europe. Whether they can flourish in this climate has not been determined. The borer, resembling a caterpillar, attacks corn, beets, celery, beans, rhubarb, potatoes, buckwheat, clover, and many other products. By laying eggs on it, the female wasp kills the borer.

Registration of trucks and automobiles as reported recently indicates that there are now more than 13,048,128 motor vehicles in the United States, an average of one machine for every 8.5 persons. Between July 1, 1922, and July 1, 1923, there was a gain of 2,440,000, almost 23 per cent.

Women Inventors Are Busy on Industrial Problems

To learn just what part women were taking in inventions, government officials recently undertook a survey that showed over 5,000 patents had been granted to them in 10 years, more than the total for 105 years previous. The first patent granted an American woman was given by the British government to the wife of a Pennsylvania planter, for a device to clean and cure corn. Labor-saving machines are said to make up the majority of women's inventions, one making an apparatus for scattering fertilizer, another an article to strip sugar cane, while an adjustable horse collar was made by a Montana woman. For the kitchen, a pie pan was brought out that prevented juices from overflowing the brim, and a wooden mixing bowl was invented that would not split. Almost every line of business was included, but 1,385 patents were for articles of housekeeping.

Novel Method of Taking Time Exposures with Hand Camera

Tripods are more or less of an annoyance to the camera enthusiast, and few use them. However, it is sometimes necessary to make a time exposure to get the desired picture, but the camera cannot be held steadily enough with the hands to avoid doubling the image. It is, however, a simple matter to hold the camera steady if a cane is carried along. Just below the crook of the cane two holes are drilled from opposite sides to meet in the center, both slanting down from the point of junction. Another hole is drilled through the crook to take a tripod screw, on which the camera is mounted. A cord is run through the angular hole, the ends of the cord are stepped on, and pulled taut by pulling back on the cane, which has the end planted on the ground in the position indicated, thereby holding the cane firmly in position. The arrangement thus improvised is steady enough for long-time exposures.

Another method of steadying the camera is to cut a length of tape into three pieces, and to tie or sew these pieces together at the central point as shown, making a form of the letter Y. Loops are made at the ends so that the foot can be placed in one loop, and each wrist in another. Then, with the camera clasped between both hands, an upward pull will enable the user to hold the camera steadily enough for a time exposure of four or five minutes.

No Decision Yet on Itasca Route Extension

Atchison, Kan. Making Strong Bid for Highway—Weston Continues Work and Has Big Fund

No decision has yet been made on the Itasca Park Highway route south from St. Joseph, according to K. D. Cross of Savannah, president of the Itasca Park Highway association, who was in St. Joseph yesterday.

Atchison is making a big play to get the highway routed south from St. Joseph through Atchison to Leavenworth, and twice in the last week or so, delegates of road enthusiasts of Atchison have waited upon Mr. Cross at Savannah.

At the same time Weston has been going ahead with its organization, and has recently reported that it now has between three and four thousand dollars in the treasury of the organization with which to keep up and drag and repair the highway if routed through Iatan, Weston and Beverly station.

While Weston was encouraged by the directors of the highway association at a recent road meeting at Weston that they stood a very good chance of getting the highway routed through Weston, Mr. Cross is of the opinion that not enough work has yet been done on the road. It is not so much the money, but the actual enthusiastic workers for the highway that the board of directors wants in whichever territory the route goes.

Directors of the highway association have suggested that with a two or three days' work campaign on the road in Platte county, the road could be put in excellent shape. Several culverts are now being constructed, but there are still places where the road needs considerable widening, and many places where guard rails are needed to prevent any cars from slipping down the steep precipice which is at the right side of the road practically all of the way from Bean Lake to Beverly.

Many Calls for Home Economic Teachers

Interesting Projects Being Performed By Home Ec. Class Under Direction of Miss Anthony

Several calls have come to the Home Economics department for judges of school exhibits over the County. Miss Hettie M. Anthony selects girls from her various classes to judge the food and sewing exhibits.

Last week Miss Audren Farrar was sent to Parnell where she judged both the food and sewing exhibits as well as several booths which various classes and organizations had in charge. She reported a very interesting and profitable time.

Miss Phleta Gherring and Miss Mildred Burks represented the Home Economics department at Ravenwood, Wednesday October 10 by judging the school exhibits there, which included work in sewing and foods.

Miss Frances Hahn of Maryville, who is majoring in home economics at the college, is preparing a very practical project in her theory class. It is a questionnaire to determine the efficiency of our future home makers.

Deaf Mutes in Bad Auto Wreck

Frank Pickett Of Hopkins Had a Hand Amputated When Ford Coupe Overturned

(Bedford Times-Republican)

Frank Pickett, a deaf mute, who is employed as a mechanic in a garage at Hopkins had his hand so badly mangled Saturday night, when his Ford coupe overturned south of town, that it was necessary to have his left hand amputated at the hospital at St. Joseph the following day. There are hopes that his arm may be saved, although the flesh was badly cut from the elbow to his wrist.

Mr. Pickett and two deaf friends from St. Joseph, who were visiting him, were returning to Hopkins late Saturday evening after making a trip to Bedford, and had reached a point about 4 miles south of Bedford when the accident occurred. A blind horse was loose in the road, and Floyd Churchill, who had preceded the boys a few minutes before, had barely escaped striking the animal. When the Pickett car struck the horse, it was overturned, pinning the boys in the car. They were unable to extricate themselves until Mr. Marshal of north of town came along in his car, and seeing the wreck, stopped to help. As he received no answer to anything said, he begun to think that there was no one near, when he saw one of the unfortunate occupants of the car. Although he was puzzled by not being able to learn anything from them, he brought them to Dr. Maloy's office about midnight where they were given first aid treatment.

Not knowing that they were deaf mutes, the boys created quite a puzzle for the doctor, until finally one wrote that he knew James Ulmer. Mr. Ulmer was called and was able to converse with them through the sign language. The two other boys were not hurt outside of slight scratches. Mr. Pickett kept holding his right hand to his face and taking deep breaths, and finally made it known that he wanted to be given chloroform to relieve his suffering. A hypodermic was given him, and he seemed to suffer less from the pain. The only word that he could say was "door" and motion with his arm, which was taken to mean that when the car overturned, he had thrust his hand out the door and the car had fallen that way, dragging his hand along the road for several feet before stopping. It was necessary to raise the car before his arm could be freed from the door. He was taken to Blockton that night by Dr. Maloy, and thence to St. Joseph, where the operation was performed.

There is something tragically pathetic about the story of a boy, who being unfortunate enough to be unable to hear and speak, had mastered the mechanic's trade, and learned to make his words known by the sign language, and who was robbed of his ability to continue his work at the garage, and to be unable to use the sign language. It is one of the tragedies of fate, which no person can understand.

At the time of writing no word had been received here as to Mr. Pickett's condition.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently.—Red blood tingling through the veins;—the glow of youth in the cheeks;—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk;—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel like Yourself Again

Prevent serious trouble with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food, our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the delicate tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then be fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Elementary Officers Elected This Morning

Miss Hansen of Graham Elected President—Dr. C. R. Stone of St. Louis Delivers Address.

The department of elementary schools held its meeting Friday morning in the west gymnasium. Dora B. Smith of the College faculty presided over the meeting.

The report on the nominations for officers was heard and Miss Hansen of the Graham public school elected president of the organization for the ensuing year. Mrs. Theodore Gray of the Maryville grade school was elected vice-president with Miss Clark of Grant City grade school as secretary.

Following the election of officers Dr. C. R. Stone of the Garfield elementary school of St. Louis was introduced as the speaker of the morning.

Dr. Stone's address was a continuation and expansion of his talk in the general assembly Friday morning. However, he went into detail in explaining the method which should be used for the teaching of silent and oral reading and our schools of this district.

"We have been given a certain story to study in the grade schools," said Mr. Stone, "how is the best method for teaching this story so that the students may best realize the theme which the author is aiming to develop? It has been proven that silent reading is the best method to convey a fact or thought to the student.

"Now many teachers in our schools do not know how to go about the teaching of silent reading and so for this reason I shall outline a plan that can be followed. Suppose the story given was 'The Man Without a Country' as this is one required by the state course of study.

"First the teacher should analyze the selection and prepare a short set of questions that will cover for the most part the general theme. Four or five questions is sufficient. Taking the story already mentioned as an example I would suggest some of the following questions.

Tigert Praises Local State Teachers College

Says Growth Has Been Extraordinary —Atmosphere and Spirit Of Institution Paramount

Dr. J. J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education from Washington, D. C., who is here speaking before the teachers meeting, in an interview this morning, expressed much surprise and great satisfaction with the growth and development of the Teachers College here during the past two years. Dr. Tigert was here two years ago just after President Uel W. Lamkin had been elected head of the College. This morning he was unstinted in his praise of President Lamkin's work during these two years.

"I was here two years ago," said Dr. Tigert, "And upon my return this time I was greatly surprised and highly pleased at the remarkable transformation as if by a magician's wand, in your institution. I have visited many institutions and nowhere have I found a better outward indication of healthy growth. Your new Residence Hall is a building to be proud of; it looks more like people were doing something here.

"I have always maintained that the most important thing in any institution of learning was not the number of students, not the number and size of its buildings, nor of its budget or endowment, but the atmosphere and spirit that prevades the institution. It is the same as a man's personality. I feel that a splendid atmosphere has been generated here even in so short a time. I am glad to know that Mr Lamkin is getting such splendid cooperation from Maryville and northwest Missouri."

Dr. Tigert was a member of the Federal Board of Vocational Education while Mr. Lamkin was director of the board. He declared that few people realized the magnitude of Mr. Lamkin's work there and when he left the board was much disturbed at the loss and hardly knew where to turn for a successor.

When asked about the much discussed subject of limiting enrollment in institutions of higher learning by selection of those students who would benefit mostly from the training Commissioner Tigert stressed two important points in his opinion on the subject. He declared that some students would naturally benefit more by the same training but that educational tests had not reached the degree of perfection to be used as a guide to an individual's ability. He also stated his belief that it would be unconstitutional to make any such discriminations in students by institutions that were maintained by taxation of the country at large.

Dr. Tigert said this morning that he was formerly president of the Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester, Kentucky, succeeding H. K. Taylor who came to Maryville as President of the College here.

Tension Running High Over Elks-U. T. C. Game

That Will Be Played at 10 O'Clock Tomorrow Morning At the College Field

Tension is running high among the local baseball fans in anticipation of the postponed game between the Maryville Council of the U. C. T. and the Elks. The game is scheduled to be contested at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the State Teachers College Field. All holders of tickets for the game that was to have been played last Friday are entitled to admission and asked to bring their friends.

The Maryville followers of baseball will be privileged to see some of the best players in action. "Babe Ruth" Reuillard, manager of the Elks' team has been confined to his home today with a bad cold and was unable to say what the official line-up for the Elks' nine would be. However, the manager will in all probability be on the field tomorrow directing his stars.

A rather incomplete line-up of the U. C. T. team has been furnished by Manager "McGraw" Orear. This morning he was uncertain as to the position his men would start at, but gave out the information that his ace pitcher, "Lefty Preutt" Partridge would start the hurling contest for the Travelers. A reserve hurler will be held in readiness, no other than "Pennock" Don Martin.

Other players mentioned in the line-up for the U. C. T's given to the Democrat-Forum this morning are: "Casey Stengel" Basford, "Derby Day" Al Kidder, "E. Muessel" John Sewell, "Ty Cobb' Hal Hooker, "Eddie Collins" Earl Barmann, "Scott" Tuffy Reece, "Klymer" June Blagg and "Bunny Brief" Milt Garrett.

With such a collection of baseball experts as are expected to be on the line-up of the U. C. T. and with the dark horses that "Babe Ruth" Reuillard has secured for the Elks, an exciting game of baseball is predicted at the College Field tomorrow morning. It was not known this morning what referees would officiate.

Stinnes Says Germany Must Have Co-operation

Famous German Financier Tells French General That Ruhr Industries Need Help From Europe

Germany, Oct. 12—Chancellor Gustav Stresseman was engaged today in mobilizing all government forces for the reopening of the parliamentary battle in the reichstag tomorrow.

A supreme effort will be made to pass the authorization bill conferring dictatorial powers upon the cabinet.

It is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the reichstag will be dissolved if the bill fails to pass and perhaps even if it is.

International News Service is able to present additional details of the much advertised conference between Hugo Stinnes and General Regoutte in Dusseldorf.

Stinnes told the French commander:

"You have the military power but you have not the knowledge to conduct the business of the Ruhr in the manner the Germans carried on before the French-Belgian invasion. The French would not be aided by an impoverished Germany. Only the industrialists of both countries could save Europe from ruin.

"You have the military power to do what you please but generals cannot run industrial plants. The French cannot operate the industries of the Ruhr. You must permit us to put our house in order and you must cooperate with us."

Says Physical Training Should be Given Early

Dr. Henry S. Curtis Makes Appeal For More Play—Mrs. Partch Tells Of Language Teaching

In the physical education department meeting Dr. Henry S. Curtis, superintendent of the state department of physical education gave a very interesting talk on this work in the elementary schools.

"The greatest amount of physical education work," said Dr. Curtis "should be given before the age of 15 years. It is at this stage that the body is growing and it to be shaped as a young twig of a tree.

Dr. Curtis then went on an showed the great importance in the present day for physical education. "Our teachers have to pass a physical test, our soldiers are physically examined before being admitted to the army and various other such tests are to be found in every walk of life. The kind of training which we need most is out door exercise.

"The girls and women of our schools are neglected more than any other in physical education programs. They need it just as bad as any one else for they are the future mothers of our country and in them lies the possibilities of a stronger America.

"We need better coaches in our schools today. The coach has it within his hands to lead a large bunch of boys a stray or in the right paths. So it is that we need coaches that are not only adapted to the ways of physical education but of the right moral standing as well."

In the department of rural education Mrs. C. E. Partch of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College gave a short demonstration of the teaching of language lessons in the lower grades.

Some of the children of Maryville who are attending the teachers training school at the College this fall were used in the demonstration. Following the demonstration Mrs. Partch gave a short talk on the principles of teaching language to the smaller children.

Howard R. Driggs, author of Live Language Lessons was unable to be present and deliver his address on the teaching of language to rural school children.

Oldsmobile
A GENERAL MOTORS PRODUCT

"CANNON-BALL" BAKER MAKES GOOD START ON TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGH GEAR RUN.

Leaving New York at 11:30 Monday noon, from Columbus Circle and 59th street, where thousands gathered to see him off, "Cannon-Ball" Baker, noted race driver, started on his way, escorted through the state of New Jersey by a cordon of New York City motorcycle police, driving a new Oldsmobile "Six" on a high gear transcontinental run to Los Angeles, arrived in Philadelphia Monday afternoon. While in Philadelphia a huge parade was staged in honor of Baker and his Oldsmobile "Six." The driver was greeted officially by E. J. Kendricks, Mayor-Elect of Philadelphia. After driving all night Monday the car arrived at 7:30 Tuesday morning in Uniontown, Pa. During the night the car conquered with ease the difficult Cumberland Mountains including many ascents several miles long ranging in grades from 16 to 21% and crossing the tops at speeds varying from 25 to 35 miles per hour. These feats are considered unusual even under the best of conditions while Baker was forced to contend Monday night with heavy fogs that made it impossible to "take a running start" at the mountains. Before leaving New York the transmission of the new Oldsmobile "Six" was opened and all gears with the exception of "high" entirely removed. Journalists representing practically every newspaper in New York City were present and after inspection, sealed gear box and handed Baker a sealed statement to be opened when the car arrives in Los Angeles. The newspaper men also determined that the car was a standard stock model in every respect. "Cannon-Ball" left Uniontown late Tuesday night driving the balance of the Cumberlands with Indianapolis his objective on Wednesday noon.
